

scoop four on

AIIG gives Komuntale and Thomas $200,000 worth of travel cover

Everyone knows Tooro princess Ruth Komuntale exchanged vows with her American lover Christopher Thomas over the weekend in Fort Portal, unless you have been living in a hole, so we won't go into that.

The couple received lots of gifts but what got our jaws dropping was $200,000 (about Shs520m), worth of insurance travel cover for the couple from you and me.

AIIG managing director, Alex Wanjohi wrote to the Tooro King Oyo Nyimba Kabamba Iguru congratulating the kingdom on the wedding and attached his gift. Considering that the couple will make several back and forth movements between Uganda and the US, the package comes in handy and it will cover emergency medical expenses while travelling, accidents, travel cancellation, plus loss of baggage. Congs to the newlyweds.

